

Willie Crosby: Fungi Ally

Willie Crosby has been studying and cultivating fungi for the past 3 years. He recently completed a month long internship with Aloha Medicinals learning how to grow high quality spawn and medicinal mushrooms. Last year in conjunction with Bill Cooley he started Fungi Ally inoculating 500 logs. Since then the team has built 2 indoor growing rooms which are supplying mushrooms to the Amherst community. Willie has led mushroom cultivation workshops throughout Massachusetts. Through study and experience Willie hopes to continue learning the diverse methods people can improve themselves and the world through allying with fungi!

Fungi Ally strives to bring mushrooms and all their benefits to the forefront of the pioneer valley. By offering fresh locally grown mushrooms we hope more people can take advantage of the medicinal and culinary wonders mushrooms offer.

We are a group of cultivators located in Amherst and Hadley dedicated to growing mushrooms and finding ways fungi can beneficially support our community. We look to collaborate with other mycophiles in the pioneer valley to develop and implement projects allying with fungi.
